

In Somerset we gardeners have a superb choice of plants available to us at our Specialist Nurseries and, unlike most garden centres, they stock many less common plants. They propagate much of their own stock, frequently grown without heat, meaning healthier plants. Our nurserymen and women have a vast knowledge and will give us worthwhile advice. So, whatever you are looking for, go to your Specialist Nursery. It is in our own interest to support them and help them survive - they are our natural gems.
